COMPLAINT AND JURY DEMAND

Plaintiff YVONNE DOWNIE (“Plaintiff” or “DOWNIE”), on behalf of herself individually and as class representative of other employees similarly situated, by and through her attorney, complains and alleges for her complaint against CARELINK, INC. and VINSENT ROBINSON and JOHN DOES #1-10 (together “Defendant” or “Defendants”) as follows:

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. Plaintiff DOWNIE was a home health aide who worked numerous 24 hour shifts for which she was illegally paid for only 12 of the 24 hours worked, as she did not get meal breaks and did not get 5 hours of uninterrupted sleep.

2. Plaintiff DOWNIE also worked for more than one client in a day and was not paid for her time traveling between the clients.

3. Plaintiff worked for Defendants for more than 40 hours per week (“overtime hours”) and, along with numerous other similar home health aides, was not paid minimum wages for her hours worked and not paid time and one half for her overtime hours.

4. Plaintiff alleges on behalf of herself and other similarly situated current and former employees of the Defendants who elect to opt into this action pursuant to the Fair Labor Standards Act (“FLSA”), 29 U.S.C. §§ 216(b), that they are: (i) entitled to unpaid wages from Defendants for work for which they did not receive minimum wages and for overtime work for which they did not receive overtime premium pay, as required by law, and (ii) entitled to liquidated damages pursuant to the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. §§201 et seq.

5. Plaintiff further complains on behalf of herself, and a class of other similarly situated current and former employees of the Defendant, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23, that they are entitled to back wages from Defendant for (a) hours worked for which they did not receive wages including wages as required under the Wage Parity Act, (b) overtime hours worked for which they did not receive time and one half the minimum wage or time and one half their actual wages, and (c) spread of hours work performed for which they did not receive an extra hour of pay, as required by the New York Labor Law §§ 650 et seq. and the supporting New York State Department of Labor regulations and are also entitled to damages under the New York Wage Theft Prevention Act because Defendants did not provide proper notices to Plaintiff.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1337, 1343, and supplemental jurisdiction over Plaintiff’s state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367. In addition, the Court has jurisdiction over Plaintiff’s claims under the FLSA pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). Venue is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1391. This Court is empowered to issue a declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202.

THE PARTIES

7. Plaintiff YVONNE DOWNIE was, at all relevant times, an adult individual, residing in Kings County in New York State.

8. Upon information and belief, Defendant CARELINK, INC. (“Corporate Defendant”) is a New York corporation, with its principal place of business at 25 South Tyson Ave., Floral Park, N.Y. 11001.

9. Upon information and belief, Defendant VINSENT ROBINSON is an officer, director and/or managing agent of the Corporate Defendant, whose address is unknown at this time and who participated in the day-to-day operations of the Corporate Defendant and acted intentionally and maliciously and is an “employer” pursuant to the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. §203(d) and regulations promulgated thereunder, 29 C.F.R. §791.2, as well as the New York Labor Law Sec. 2 and the regulations thereunder and is jointly and severally liable with the Corporate Defendant.

10. Upon information and belief, VINSENT ROBINSON is the Executive Director and Chief Executive Officer of CARELINK, INC., and has held these positions during the last 6 years (“Robinson time period”).

11. Upon information and belief, during the Robinson time period, VINSENT ROBINSON had authority over the Corporate Defendant’s management, supervision, and oversight of the Corporate Defendant’s affairs in general and exercised operational control over the Corporate Defendants’ home health aide employees and other employees and his decisions directly affected the nature and condition of the home health care employees’ employment.

12. Upon information and belief, during the Robinson time period, VINSENT ROBINSON (1) had the power to hire and fire the home health aide employees of the Corporate Defendant, (2) supervised and controlled the home health aide employees’ schedules and conditions of employment, (3) determined the rate and method of payment of the home health aide employees, and (4) maintained employment records related to the home health aide employees.

13. Upon information and belief, John Does #1-10 represent the officers, directors and/or managing agents of the Corporate Defendant, whose identities are unknown at this time and who participated in the day-to-day operations of the Corporate Defendant and acted intentionally and maliciously and are "employers" pursuant to the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. §203(d) and regulations promulgated thereunder, 29 C.F.R. §791.2, as well as the New York Labor Law Sec. 2 and the regulations thereunder and are jointly and severally liable with the Corporate Defendant.

COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

14. Pursuant to 29 U.S.C. §207, Plaintiff seeks to prosecute her FLSA claims as a collective action on behalf of all persons who are or were formerly employed by Defendant at any time since July 21, 2010 (time tolled by failure to post notice) to the entry of judgment in this case (the "Collective Action Period"), who were non-exempt employees within the meaning of the FLSA and who were not paid minimum wages and/or overtime compensation at rates not less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for hours worked in excess of forty hours per workweek (the "Collective Action Members").

15. This collective action class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. Although the precise number of such persons is unknown, and the facts on which the calculation of that number are presently within the sole control of the Defendant, upon information and belief, there are at least 40 members of the Class during the Collective Action Period, most of whom would not be likely to file individual suits because they lack adequate financial resources, access to attorneys or knowledge of their claims.

16. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Collective Action Members and has retained counsel that is experienced and competent in the fields of employment law and class action litigation. Plaintiffs have no interests that are contrary to or in conflict with those members of this collective action.

17. A collective action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy, since joinder of all members is impracticable. Furthermore, inasmuch as the damages suffered by individual Collective Action Members may be relatively small, the expense and burden of individual litigation make it virtually impossible for the members of the collective action to individually seek redress for the wrongs done to them. There will be no difficulty in the management of this action as a collective action.

18. Questions of law and fact common to the members of the collective action predominate over questions that may affect only individual members because Defendant has acted on grounds generally applicable to all members. Among the common questions of law and fact common to Plaintiffs and other Collective Action Members are

- a. whether the Defendant employed the Collective Action members within the meaning of the FLSA;
- b. whether the Defendant failed to keep true and accurate time records for all hours worked by Plaintiff and the Collective Action Members;
- c. what proof of hours worked is sufficient where the employer fails in its duty to maintain time records;
- d. whether Defendant failed to post or keep posted a notice explaining the minimum wages and overtime pay rights provided by the FLSA in any area where Plaintiffs are employed, in violation of C.F.R. § 516.4;

- e. whether Defendant failed to pay the Collective Action Members minimum wages and overtime compensation for hours worked in excess of forty hours per workweek, in violation of the FLSA and the regulations promulgated thereunder;
- f. whether Defendant's violations of the FLSA are willful as that term is used within the context of the FLSA;
- g. whether Defendant is liable for all damages claimed hereunder, including but not limited to compensatory, punitive and statutory damages, interest, costs and disbursements and attorneys' fees; and
- h. whether Defendant should be enjoined from such violations of the FLSA in the future.

19. Plaintiff knows of no difficulty that will be encountered in the management of this litigation that would preclude its maintenance as a collective action.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS

20. Plaintiff sues on her own behalf and on behalf of a class of persons under Rules 23(a), (b)(2) and (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

21. Plaintiff brings her New York Labor Law claim on behalf of all persons who were employed by Defendant at any time since July 21, 2010, to the entry of judgment in this case (the "Class Period"), who were not paid all their straight time wages, minimum wages (including those required by the NY Health Care Worker Wage Parity Act), spread of hour wages, and/or overtime wages and/or were not provided the notices required by the Wage Theft Prevention Act (the "Class"). See Andryeyeva v. New York Health Care, Inc., 45 Misc. 3d 820, 994 N.Y.s.2d 278 (N.Y. Sup. Kings Co. 2014)(certifying class of home health aides who were not paid for all of their 24 hour shifts).

22. The persons in the Class identified above are so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. Although the precise number of such persons is unknown, and the facts on which the calculation of that number are presently within the sole control of the Defendant, upon information and belief, there at least 40 members of Class during the Class Period.

23. The claims of Plaintiff are typical of the claims of the Class, and a class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy—particularly in the context of wage and hour litigation where individual plaintiffs lack the financial resources to vigorously prosecute a lawsuit in federal court against corporate defendants.

24. The Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the class, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief with respect to the class as a whole.

25. Plaintiff is committed to pursuing her action and has retained competent counsel experienced in employment law and class action litigation.

26. Plaintiff has the same interests in this matter as all other members of the class and Plaintiff's claims are typical of the Class.

27. There are questions of law and fact common to the Class which predominate over any questions solely affecting the individual members of the Class, including but not limited to:

- a. whether the Defendant employed the members of the Class within the meaning of the New York Labor Law;
- b. whether the Defendant failed to keep true and accurate time records for all hours worked by Plaintiff and members of the Class;

- c. what proof of hours worked is sufficient where employers fail in their duty to maintain time records;
- d. whether Defendant failed and/or refused to pay the members of the Class for all hours worked by them as well as premium pay for hours worked in excess of forty hours per workweek as well as spread of hours pay for hours worked a spread of more than ten hours, within the meaning of the New York Labor Law;
- e. whether the Defendant is liable for all damages claimed hereunder, including but not limited to compensatory, interest, costs and disbursements and attorneys' fees; and
- f. whether the Defendant should be enjoined from such violations of the New York Labor Law in the future.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

28. Plaintiff DOWNIE was a home health aide/maid employed by Carelink, Inc. and Vinsent Robinson (collectively "Defendants"), from about October 29, 2012 until about October 15, 2015 (the "time period").

29. Defendants are an employment agency that sent DOWNIE to work as a home health aide/maid for numerous customers located in New York City and Nassau County.

30. During the time period, DOWNIE was not paid full regular wages for all her hours worked and was not paid overtime wages for all of her hours worked over forty in a workweek ("overtime"), and was not paid an extra hour of pay for her hours worked over a spread of 10 hours per day.

31. During the time period, DOWNIE often worked for 24 hours staying overnight at the client's house, and on these days was only paid for 12 hours, despite the fact that her sleep was regularly interrupted generally at least 3-4 times by the client throughout the night. At times she was only given a couch to sleep on and was not offered a bed during the 24 hours of work.

32. During the time period, at times, DOWNIE was required to work for two different clients in the same day and was not paid for her time and expenses traveling between the two clients.

33. DOWNIE often worked more than 40 hours per week.

34. DOWNIE filled out time sheets that were signed by the customers, which DOWNIE was required to submit to Defendants.

35. DOWNIE also signed in and out using the client's land line phone, if the client had one. When DOWNIE clocked out, DOWNIE generally entered codes showing the types of work that she had performed.

36. During the time period, DOWNIE did not receive a meal break and generally ate while working.

37. During the time period, DOWNIE was not paid for all her hours worked and was not paid for her hours worked over 40 hours a week ("overtime hours") at time and one half her regular wages and at times was not paid for her overtime hours worked at time and one half the minimum wage rate.

38. During the time period, DOWNIE took sick days during July 2014 and was not paid for her sick days.

39. During the time period, DOWNIE worked for customers who were paying for her services with New York Medicaid and was not paid minimum wages under the Wage Parity Act.

40. During the time period, DOWNIE's job responsibilities as a home health aide/maid included, among others, cleaning the entire house, cooking and doing the laundry.

41. DOWNIE was required to prepare three meals a day, breakfast, lunch and dinner.
42. Breakfast usually consisted of eggs, oatmeal, and milk.
43. Lunch usually consisted of a cooked meal with rice or pasta, a meat (usually chicken or fish) and also soup and dessert. Sometimes alternatively DOWNIE made a sandwich or mixed vegetables for lunch.
44. Dinner usually consisted of the similar items as lunch.
45. DOWNIE was required to prepare whatever foods the customer requested.
46. DOWNIE generally was required to make the beds every morning.
47. Defendants required DOWNIE to do a number of tasks on a daily basis, including but not limited to: dusting, vacuuming, cleaning the bathroom (including the toilet, tub and shower), mopping the kitchen floors, scrubbing the kitchen counters, cleaning the pots and pans, loading/unloading the dishwasher, and taking out the garbage.
48. DOWNIE generally was required to do the laundry every day. DOWNIE was also required to flip the bed mattresses once every week.
49. DOWNIE was also required to clean out the refrigerator and put away the new groceries at least once every week.
50. DOWNIE also was required to remind the customers to take their medications but was not permitted to touch the medications.
51. DOWNIE spent at least 30% of her time directly performing household work.
52. During the time period, Defendants hired at least 40 similar home health aides/maids, who also (a) were only paid for 12 hours of their 24 hour overnight shifts despite the fact that they did not receive uninterrupted sleep and (b) were not paid for travel time and expenses between clients when serving two clients on the same day, and (c) were not paid minimum wages and regular wages for all hours worked and (d) were not paid time and one half their regular rate for hours worked over 40 in a week.

53. During the time period, DOWNIE complained to the coordinator Tamara (last name not known) about not receiving pay for all her hours worked during the overnight shifts and during the travel time between clients.

54. Tamara repeatedly said she would look into her complaints but never responded, and DOWNIE never was paid for all her hours worked.

55. Throughout the time period, Defendant has likewise employed at least 40 other individuals, like DOWNIE, in positions as home health aides/maids.

56. Throughout the time period, such individuals have only been paid for 12 hours of work when they work a 24 hour overnight shift and were not paid for all at their hours worked during 24 hour assignments during which they were not able to get uninterrupted sleep, and have also not been paid for their time and expenses traveling between clients, and have also not been paid overtime premium wages of one and one half times their regular hourly rate (or at time and one half the minimum wage rate) for their overtime hours worked.

57. During the time period, DOWNIE was not specifically notified by Defendants of the regular pay day designated by Defendants, Defendants' name, address and principle place of business and telephone number and her specific rate of pay as required by the New York Wage Theft Prevention Act, except one notice she received shortly after she started working.

58. DOWNIE has not been given any specific notice of this information to sign and has not signed any such notice since she received the first notice shortly after she started working. Upon information and belief the other home health aide employees also were not given such notice.
